And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Bill Rountree, City Superintendent, reminded us this week that the Clean-up campaign that started this week is more important this year than ever before. This is the last month that the city can burn the weeds, trash and tree limbs that are a part of the Clean-up.

The Clean-up this year runs for two weeks instead of the customary one week and the city trucks will start picking up the trash Monday, June 19. The city can burn this waste now, but if any is picked up after July 1 it will have to be buried.

Since this will be a more costly process, it will just mean more expense to the taxpayers. So, if you can possibly do your clean up during these two weeks it will be of great benefit to Bill and his crew.

It will probably be a major undertaking just to handle the normal load of trash under the new system until they get the bugs worked out, so it will help if all of the bulky items are disposed of before the first.

We see that Anson is making plans for a very extensive summer recreation program that will involve their chamber of commerce, city, school and churches.

The program will be coordinated by the new head coach George Hopper and will include a wide range of physical, recreational and cultural activities suitable for small children as well as older boys and girls through high school age.

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor and set up the machinery for the program and handle all of the registration, but will enlist the aid of civic, church and women's organizations to carry out the program. The facilities of the schools, churches and the city will be used.

Among the programs planned include the Public Library Reading program, a sewing and charm school, twirling classes, cheerleader classes, swimming classes, tennis and Junior Olympics (including track and field events for both boys and girls and weight lifting for boys), and summer community theatre events, including at least one local talent play.

We think that it would be well for us to keep a close watch on the outcome of this program and see if something like this could not be worked out for the Hamlin youth next year.

We have no idea what the anticipated costs of the program will be but except for the coordinator, most of the workers will be volunteer. Because many of the workers will be high school age youth, the program will not only provide something for the younger kids, but it will also provide outlets for the older ones as well.

It seems to us that Hamlin is long over due for some program of this type. We have the facilities and the people capable of running such a program if some organization would just coordinate it and get it going. We doubt if the lack of money would be much of a problem if a good program could be worked up.

Since this is the time of the year for chiggers we thought we might pass along the following advice from Texas A&M Entomologist, Weldon Newton.

Chiggers attach themselves by inserting their mouthparts into the skin. In feeding, they inject a fluid into the skin which liquefies the tissue. This injected fluid causes reddish welts, swelling, itching and (in some persons) fever.

Before going into areas where chiggers may be present, protect yourself against them by using a repellent. Some repellents are also effective against mosquitoes and some other insects. Long lasting protection can be obtained by impregnating clothing with a diluted

Clean-Up Drive Underway Here

The annual Clean-up campaign for Hamlin got underway here Monday and runs through Monday, June 23, according to a proclamation by Mayor H. W. Madden.

The campaign will close with the running of city trucks to pick up the accumulated trash on the final day. Bill Rountree, City Superintendent, said that the city crews would pick up all of the trash in the alleys on that date.

A special effort is being made by the city to have a good clean up this year in advance of the new garbage disposal regulations that go into effect July 1. Trash picked up now may be burned but after the July deadline it will have to be buried, according to Rountree, and this will cause the cost to the city to be higher.

The heavy rains in May have brought about a real need for a clean-up at this time because of flies and mosquitoes. Standing water, high weeds, trash and rubbish are perfect breeding spots for these insects, warns the mayor.

MRS. MYRTLE LOCKE, LONGTIME RESIDENT, DIES HERE TUESDAY

Mrs. Myrtle Locke, 72, a Hamlin resident for 71 years, died at 11 p.m. Tuesday at her home, 229 N. W. Fourth St.

Services will be held today (Thursday) at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. Rev. Harold Fleming, pastor of Central Avenue Baptist Church, and Rev. Cecil Hardaway, pastor of First United Methodist Church will officiate.

Burial will be in Hamlin East Cemetery.

Born Oct. 21, 1896, in Elkhart, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George McCracken.

She was married to S. H. Locke in Altus, Okla., in 1913. She was a former Civil Service nurse and served as a private nurse. She was a member of First Baptist Church.

Survivors include three sons, J. D. of Ruidoso, N. Mex., Durwood of North Carolina, Jesse of Dallas; two daughters, Mrs. W. W. (Erma) Wallace of Hamlin, Mrs. M. C. (Pauline) McKinley of Stamford; one brother, Lankford McCracken of Hamlin; two sisters, Mrs. Viola Beavers and Mrs. Mattie Storey, both of San Antonio; 19 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Bill Harbert, Lee Hastings, Marvin Carlton, Dickie Wallace, Corky Bond, J. O. Murphree, Jack Griffin and Marvin Massey, both of Stamford.

According to a notice being published this week.

The notice reads, "due to the increase in cost of operation, notice is hereby given to all water customers now paying a trash pick-up charge: Effective on the July 1, 1969 billing, your charge will be increased $1.00 over the present charge."

All daily pick-up charges will also be increased $1.00 for the present time, according to the notice. A survey will be made to determine if further increases will be necessary.

According to city officials this increase is brought about by the change in garbage dumping regulations by the State Health Department and the Air Pollution Control Board.

Beginning July 1 the City will no longer be able to burn trash and will be required to cover the refuse daily in dirt pits. This change will require the purchase of additional equipment and the need for additional labor, which in turn brings about the increase in cost, according to Mayor H. W. Madden.

At the present time the council is looking at equipment to purchase to comply with the new regulations going into effect July 1.

Tractor Maintenance Short Course Being Planned for June 23-26

A tractor maintenance short course for adult farmers will be held June 23-26 under the sponsorship of the Hamlin High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to C. F. Cook, Superintendent, and T. C. Blankinship and Milburn Wink, teachers of vocational agriculture.

The short course is being sponsored by the vocational agriculture department of Hamlin High School.

Harold T. Wiedemann, tractor maintenance specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A & M University, will do the instructing. He is headquartered at Texas A & M University.

Wiedemann, a native of Mission, received his B. S. Degree in Agricultural Engineering from Texas A & M University, in 1956. During summer vacations he worked with the John Deere Implement Company of Mission, and while serving 24 months active duty with the U. S. Army he was in charge of instruction and maintenance of both track and wheel type vehicles.

"Outstanding success" has been the words associated with the tractor maintenance short course taught by Mr. Wiedemann, according to Hulan H. Harris, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Big Spring, Texas. Arrangements for the adult education short course in tractor maintenance and in other fields are made through Blankinship and Wink's office.

The short course at Hamlin is scheduled to begin June 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of short courses will be held June 24, 25, and 26.

During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Wiedemann will be available to assist farmers with individual tractor problems and to provide "on-the-farm" instruction, according to Blankinship and Wink.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call the Superintendent of Schools, or the teachers of Vocational Agriculture. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Tractor Maintenance Short course Certificates are to be presented to each individual who attends all the training sessions.

Wiedemann states that the key to longer tractor life comes from a full knowledge of the fundamentals of an engine and the application of the proper maintenance skills involving lubrication, fuels, carburetion, air cleaners, cooling systems, valves and ignition.

Wiedemann will cover the proper adjustments and maintenance of the above, with emphasis on the importance of each in obtaining a longer tractor life. Throughout the short course emphasis will be placed on "Learning to do by doing" through the use of several demonstration tractors. All students will have the opportunity to perform actual adjustments and maintenance on these tractors. Safety during both maintenance and actual operation will also be included in this course.

"Short courses in tractor maintenance, as well as other subjects, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the new cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A & M University, stated Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A & M University who coordinates the program for Texas A & M.

"This cooperative program," states Jaska, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people."

MRS. CLIFFORD WAYNE SHARER
... formerly Diane Neal

Neal-Sharer Vows Exchanged Friday

Marsha Diane Neal and Clifford Wayne Sharer exchanged wedding vows Friday evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Max Brown, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Marvin Carlton was pianist and soloist was Marcia Steele.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Fulton Neal. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sharer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of poie de sole with an overlay of Alencon lace on the fitted bodice. Designed with bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves, the gown had a full skirt and a chapel train held at the waistline with a peau bow. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a cluster of organza roses and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses atop a Mother of Pearl encrusted Bible.

Rhea Sue Vaughan, maid of honor, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow gown of voile reembroidered with gold and green roses. She carried a single long stemmed yellow rose.

Allen Cumbie served as best man. Terry and Gary Neal, brothers of the bride, seated guests.

Delinda Gay Everton, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. John Neal, another brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Sharer will be a summer graduate of Hamlin High School.

The bridegroom was graduated from Hamlin High School and attended Cisco Junior College. He is employed by Celotex Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal hosted the reception in the Fellowship Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharer were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Lee's Cafe.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. Mex., the couple will reside at 130 S. W. Second Street in Hamlin.

She serves less frequently now. When dinners are scheduled, she never misses Sunday School and church but she has to leave immediately after the service. She serves promptly at 12:30. She misses visiting friends after church she says, and is not as eager to set the dinners as she once was.

At 9:30 on Sunday morning she is at Oak Grove Baptist Church where she has served as Sunday School Superintendent for nine years. She is also assistant teacher in the missionary society and a past president of the Senior Mission. She served as president of the Mission for 20 years, prior to January of this year.

Often, to make money for the church, Mrs. Maxwell will prepare Pecan Icebox Cookies and sell them to members. This recipe makes about four rolls about one and one-fourth inches in diameter and 12 inches long. The thickness they are sliced determines the size of the baked cookie.

PECAN ICEBOX COOKIES
2 c. brown sugar
1 c. butter or margarine
2 eggs
3 3/4 c. flour
1 t. soda
1 c. pecans
1 t. vanilla

Mix together and work into a stiff dough. Make into rolls and wrap with waxed paper. Put in refrigerator and let set a few hours before baking. Slice and bake in moderate oven for 10 min.

Another recipe that she prepares is a Tuna sandwich loaf. This, she says, is sold by the slice and is a popular item. The bread has to be ordered in advance to get the unsliced loaf.

SANDWICH LOAF
Tuna filling: Mix together 1 can tuna, 2 hard boiled eggs, celery and chopped pickles to taste, and salad dressing, enough to make spreadable.

Cheese filling: Pimento cheese spread in glass mixed with enough salad dressing to spread easily.

MEASURES CAREFULLY — Mrs. Maxwell measures very carefully—with a wooden spoon and her good eye—when she bakes. Here she measures shortening for hot rolls. She uses a favorite pan, in foreground, for mixing the rolls and can see when the mixture "looks right." The measuring cup is used when trying new recipes.

Bryan and moved here in the fall of 1921. She was employed by Mr. and Mrs. Tate May for many years and still on special occasions goes to Abilene where they now make their home to prepare particular meals.

Mr. and Mrs. May also return to Hamlin and just last Thanksgiving brought a number of friends to be served Thanksgiving dinner in Mrs. Maxwell's home.

The custom of serving meals in her home started at Easter "in about 1956" she said. At the suggestion of a friend, she called several people to see if they would be interested in bringing their families for Sunday dinner. The first dinner was prepared for 16 and she says she has served as many as 26 at a meal.

Reservations are made for the dinner in advance and must be confirmed by Friday. Her first price was $1.50 for the men and $1.25 for the women. Today she serves the meals for $2 per plate.

Popular Hamlin Cook, Mrs. Maxwell, Shares Some of Her Favorite Recipes

Mrs. Louberta Maxwell, a popular Hamlin cook, shared one of her many recipes with others Monday evening when she demonstrated making hot rolls at an adult homemaking session at Hamlin High School.

Mrs. Maxwell has been making the rolls for so long that she does not make specific measurements, rather, she mixes the rolls by sight and feel. Her shortening measurement, for instance, is "this much" on a wooden spoon. She did compile this recipe that others could follow.

LOUBERTA'S ROLLS
Mix: 1 c. hot mashed potatoes
1/2 c. shortening
1/2 c. sugar
4 t. salt

Bring 1 c. milk to a boil (do not let boil) and add to potato mixture.

Let cool
Beat: 2 eggs and add to potato mixture.

Mix: 1/2 c. lukewarm water
1 1/2 yeast cake

Add to mixture.

Stir in 6 to 7 cups sifted flour.

Turn dough onto floured board and knead until no longer sticky. Put in greased bowl and cover with a layer of waxed paper and then a layer of foil, folding securely around bowl. Refrigerate until about four hours before baking time.

Dough keeps well up to three days. Roll dough and cut with large biscuit cutter, fold over once for "Pocketbook" rolls. Place in greased pans and allow to rise until double in bulk. Bake at 400 to 425 degrees 12 to 15 minutes.

Mrs. Maxwell said the rolls could be made out and then refrigerated. They need only then to be removed in time to rise before baking.

Mrs. Maxwell was born in

(June 6, 1924)

People's Pharmacy is in new hands again, beginning Saturday of this week. Mr. O. C. Newsom, the proprietor has sold to Sam King, known to most people as the "Garage Man." King was one of the original garage men in Hamlin and is one of Jones County's best business men.

The many friends of Miss Doris Myrick will be glad to learn that she has been elected to teach Physical Education in the College of Industrial Arts at Denton.

A pleasant social affair of the week, and one that will long be remembered by Hamlin people, was the reception, given Monday evening from seven-thirty to ten o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Payne, when they entertained complimenting Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Neff, who left Tuesday morning for their home in Haskell.

A surprise picnic was given by the Kings Daughters at the City Park, Thursday evening, honoring Miss Beck.

In a sale at D. J. Payne's store the following items were listed: shirts with collars attached, 95¢; dress shirts, 98¢ and $1.89; men's suits from $10.48 to $27.48; women's dresses, French hemstitched, colored voile dresses, $4.

The regular meeting of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce met, Tuesday night at the Morgan Hotel. J. W. Ezell was chosen to represent Hamlin in the Commissioner's Court, in the planning and construction of the highways that were recently provided for in the bond election.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(June 3, 1949)

Approval of the State Highway Department has been given to plans for widening the north part of Central Avenue, and the four blocks east on Lake Drive, Holly Toler, mayor, was informed this week.

The letter also told that approval has been given to a drainage project that has been under consideration for several months here.

Cost of the two projects will be approximately $3,600.

A total of $194.26 was taken in by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars last Saturday from sale of paper poppies on the streets, according to Mrs. Clyde Huff.

A first aid room for Hamlin High School was the parting gift of the 1949 senior class, I. R. Huchingson, superintendent, has announced.

Plans for remodeling the business building at SW Third and Central Avenue, now housing the A. J. Thompson store, and make it into a modern, new home for the Farmers & Merchants National Bank, were officially announced this week.

Dr. E. D. Perrin of Dimmitt has accepted a position as an associate of Dr. E. J. Hawkins in operation of the Memorial Hospital, it was announced Tuesday by Dr. Hawkins.

Dr. Perrin, who is a native of Cameron, attended medical school at Baylor University, and graduated with the class of which Dr. Hawkins was a member.

J. B. May, stellar pitcher for the Hamlin Pied Pipers, has been invited to be one of the men on the mound for the North Texas All-Stars in a game with the South Oklahoma All-Stars, in Wichita Falls Friday.

TEN YEARS AGO
(June 4, 1959)

Wheat harvest in the Hamlin territory is about two-thirds completed, a survey of farmers, harvesters and grain buyers this week indicated. And the yield is averaging from 12 to 15 bushels per acre.

Two new members were added to the faculty of Hamlin schools last week when members of the board of education named a new school band director, Tim Jones, and a coach, Leslie Frambrough, for Junior High School.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has awarded a contract to Boyd J. McDaniel Company of Abilene for an addition to the telephone building at Hamlin.

The project, including the cost of land, building, central office equipment and outside plant, will cost $202,000.

City of Hamlin's water reserve facilities are totally inadequate for a city of this size, declare members of the City Council, who are working toward providing greater reserves.

Facilities for storing some 1,000,000 gallons of treated water will require an expenditure of around $80,000. Other needed water facilities make the issuance of about $100,000 in bonds to finance the improvements advisable, say the councilmen.

Announcement was made first of the week of the purchase by W. A. Hawkins of the Jay Implement Company.

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

(A reader writes of Mr. Wildmon's new book THOUGHTS WORTH THINKING: "When I read the first thought I knew the book was in reality worth reading. All who have read any of the thoughts have without an exception praised it highly." For your copy, send $2.95 to Five Star Publishers, Box 1368 Tupelo, Miss. 38801)

A woman's scream suddenly startled a party of surveyors at dinner in a forest in northern Virginia on a calm, sunny day in 1750. The men ran in the direction of the scream. One of the first to reach the scene was an 18-year-old. "Please, sir, please make them release me," the woman said as several held her. "My boy is drowning, and they will not let me go to save him!" One of those holding her yelled: "It would be madness; she will jump into the river and drown herself."

The young man threw off his coat, sprang to the edge of the bank, scanned for a moment the rocks and whirling currents, and then, catching a glimpse of the boy, plunged into the roaring rapids. "Thank God," the mother said, "he will save my boy!" Everyone watched as the young would-be rescuer fought the rocks and the whirlpools. Twice the rescuer disappeared from sight only to come back. He was nearing the part of the river that was the most dangerous. The rush of the waters was so dangerous at that spot that no one had ever dared approach it, even in a canoe. Into the middle of it he went. Finally he grabbed the boy, lifted him above the water with his strong right arm. But at that moment those standing on the bank cry in horror. Both the youth and child shoot over the falls and vanish in the seething waters below.

Following a deadly few seconds, the mother shouted, "There they are! See! They are safe!" Soon the youth, exhausted, and the boy, senseless, reached the bank. The friends were there to meet them. "God will give you a reward," solemnly spoke the grateful woman. "He will do great things for you in return for this day's work, and the blessings of thousands beside mine shall be yours."

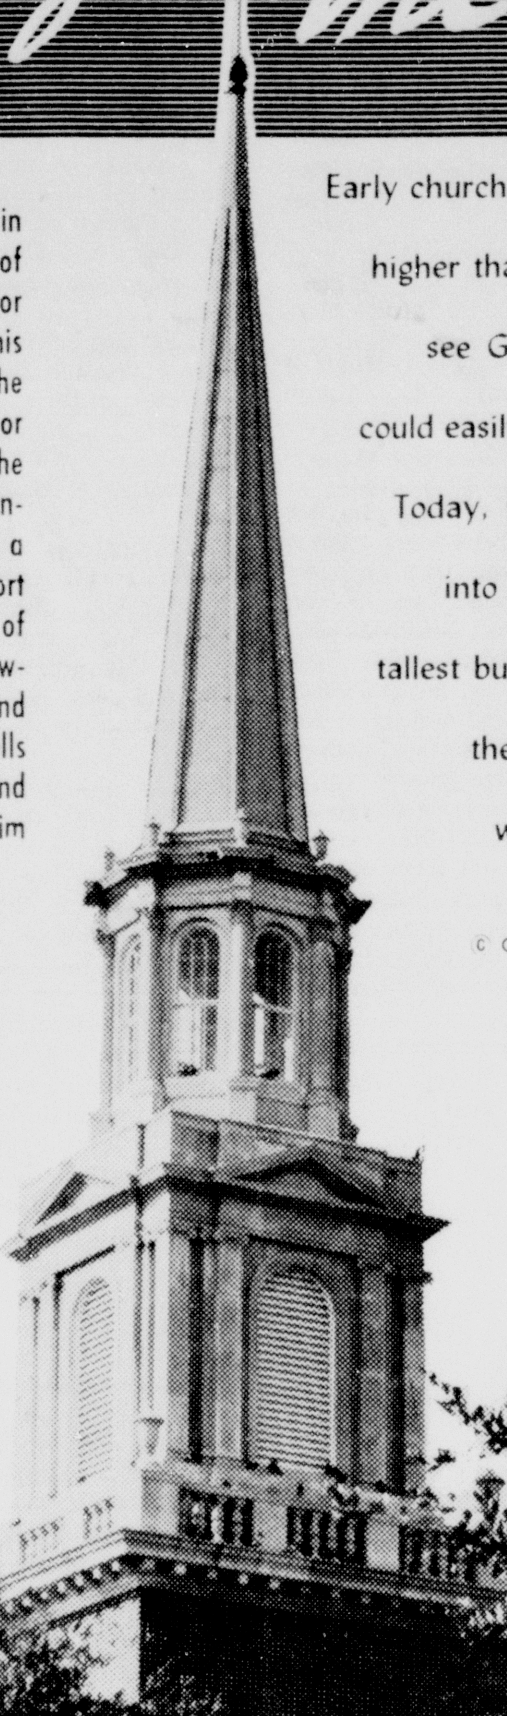

We call it courage, that thing that made the youngster do what he did. When others refused, were afraid, called it hopeless, he leaped into the water without thought of any danger he may face. One thing raced in his mind above everything else — there was another human who needed help.

Courage is a wonderful thing. It is something that you don't normally get overnight. You have to work at it, make it a way of life. The Carpenter had it, too, you know. He was a Man who inspired others with His courage. When they threatened Him with bodily harm, He stood fast. When they gave Him a choice between a lie or a cross, He chose the cross and Truth.

Oh, I nearly forgot. The woman's prediction about the young man proved correct. Some thirty-nine years later he was installed as the first President of the new country, the United States of America. His name was George Washington.

Pointing the way

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Early churches used steeples to make the building higher than all others in the city. People could see God's House from any direction, and could easily find their way to a place of worship. Today, with many office buildings towering into the sky, churches are not always the tallest buildings. However, churches still point the way to God, and provide a place of worship.

AUSTIN — Millions for welfare, billions for water, and trillions for wages. These three "Ws" point up the money problem presently facing the State.

Final decision, of course, rests with those who eventually pay the bill — the people of Texas. Their decisions as to whether they are willing to foot the bills with additional taxes will come through the ballot when they vote for or against constitutional amendments at the special election on August 5.

As for welfare . . . the welfare groups face a do-or-die effort to boost the welfare benefits ceiling from $60 million to $80 million a year. If that amendment fails, as a similar one did last November, the Legislature will have no opportunity to re-submit the increase before 1971. That means that benefit payments to the ever-growing list of recipients will decrease accordingly.

As for water . . . a massive statewide campaign is shaping up to sell Texans on a $3.5 billion revenue bond program that will be needed to bankroll the nation's largest state water development plan. A constitutional amendment on the August 5 ballot would authorize bonds — to be repaid by water users — to take care of the state's share of a $9 billion Texas Water Plan . . . the largest and boldest of its kind ever proposed.

As for wages . . . legislators and legislative leaders have a special interest in amendments to increase their salaries and to provide for annual sessions. Under one amendment the lieutenant governor and the speaker could be paid up to half the governor's salary ($50,000). Senators and Representatives could be paid as much as district judges receive from state funds ($18,000 a year). Legislators already have passed an act raising their own pay. But it goes only from the present $4,800 to $6,800. Even this raise is subject to passage of the amendment.

TO DO OR NOT TO DO — Gov. Peston Smith is keeping to himself his decision on calling the Legislature back into session.

His "D-Day" is June 22, a Sunday. That's the last day for him to sign, veto or let become law without his signature, the $2.8 billion spending bill and the $61.9 million teacher pay bill.

Smith said if he signs the budget measure, the teacher pay raise "is dead" because there is not enough money for both.

Governor surprised teachers by criticizing the teacher pay bill. Earlier he had been critical of the Legislature's decision to vote a one-year appropriations bill instead of the traditional two-year bill.

Smith has expressed some disapproval of at least two of the revenue measures — a Department of Public Safety fund transfer and a $10 optional building use fee on students.

Smith is receiving many complaints about the appropriations bill as passed by the Legislature. College people are unhappy because funds for organized research were reduced.

Not enough money was put into the budget for the schools for mentally retarded children and for the new community mental health-retardation centers, according to the Texas Association for Retarded Children.

Joe Day Jr., president of the association, objected because the bill provided money for planning a new state school in the Houston area while the Board for Mental Health and Mental Retardation had requested that new schools be built at El Paso, the Rio Grande Valley and Northeast Texas.

A last-minute change also reduced the allocation for air pollution control work by $60,000 a year.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes hopes that the governor will let the appropriations bill become law. He thinks that a year's wait will show that smaller taxes will be needed than than the Legislature levied them this year.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — An elected criminal district judge cannot be a member of a county hospital district board of managers without waiving his right to state compensation, says

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

A specialized motor carrier means any of a variety of vehicles as defined in Texas statutes, not just those certified by the State Railroad Commission said Martin in another opinion. He also defined "base municipality" as referred to in transportation statutes as "any municipality to which other municipalities are immediately contiguous."

Treasurer Jesse James asked Martin to rule on the constitutionality of giving cigarette tax stamp purchasers 15 days to pay. (They are now on cash basis). Decision bears on whether revenue is available for teacher-pay raises.

Formation of non-profit food cooperatives of ultimate consumers does not violate Texas anti-trust statutes, Martin concluded.

EDUCATION — Members of the Coordinating Board for State Colleges and Universities decided to wait until its next meeting to take action on a request by Texas A & M to expand its forestry program into a full undergraduate-graduate program.

Board gave El Paso permission to go ahead with its junior college election. Sen. Joe Christle, head of the college steering committee, made the final presentation to the board — and got a nod from the members and a congratulatory handshake from Chairman Tom Sealy.

Consideration of a common calendar for all state-supported colleges was put off until next meeting.

SHORT SNORTS
Senators selected as their interim president pro tempore Sen. Murray Watson Jr. of Waco, a 36-year-old veteran with 16 years legislative service.

Republican party leaders will meet here on June 30 to select a new state chairman to replace Peter O'Donnell Jr. (who becomes Texas National Committeeman) and vice chairman Virginia Street-er who is resigning.

Texas leads the nation in snake bite fatalities, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Twenty-nine applications to sell $19,241,177 in securities in Texas has been filed with the State Securities Board and four applications to sell $9,393,996 in securities in the state have been granted by the board.

New state bank charters are sought in Lovelady and Texas City.

A pound of cotton can be spun into 70 yards of cloth.

EROSION CONTROL NEEDED — Pat Henson of the Soil Conservation Service in Anson observes an area where a grassed waterway is needed. Heavy spring rains have shown a need for control.

repellent or by spraying an undiluted repellent on the clothing.

After possible attack by chiggers, take a bath as soon as possible; then apply a dab of antiseptic to each of the welts. This will kill any chiggers not removed by the bath, and it aids in preventing infection, noted the entomologist.

Destroying the chiggers reduces the itching, but it does not stop it. The fluid injected by the chigger causes the itching. No practical way of removing chiggers has been found and no treatment is known that will give permanent relief from the itching. To obtain temporary relief apply a local anesthetic.

In the home lawn, chiggers can be controlled with either dust or spray formulations. The dusts recommended are carbaryl (Sevin), chlordane, lindane, sulfur or toxaphene. The sprays recommended are carbaryl (Sevin), diazinon, dieldrin, lindane or toxaphene. These materials should be applied to grass and ground litter where chiggers are present.

Neinda Philosopher Studies the Idea of Machine That Can Read Handwriting But Doubts It'll Work

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One examines a suggestion to improve the mail service, without much effect either way. Dear editor:

I was reading a newspaper that got into my mail box by mistake — I put it back in before the day was over so the mail carrier could deliver it to my neighbor down the road the next morning, after all, you can't hurt a newspaper by just reading it, and it works the other way too, you can't get hurt by it — and got interested in an article on the mail service.

According to it, the Post Office Department in Washington is hoping somebody will invent a machine that reads handwriting.

With such a machine, it points out, all mail could be automatically sorted and dispatched mechanically, at ten times the rate postal clerks can do it, thus speeding up the job of getting billions of pieces of mail distributed every day, or a week later, as the case may be.

I'll tell you, when they get a machine that can read my handwriting, there'll be nothing left to invent and I wish they'd hurry as I've got a bunch of notes I wrote to myself yesterday that I can't make heads or tails of and I remember they sounded important when I scribbled them down.

I'm afraid though the Post Office is on the wrong track. Too many people make an "n" like an "r" or an "m" like a "w" for any machine to handle.

The answer is the typewriter, with magnetic ribbons, like the magnetic ink used on bank checks. Machines can read that, as anybody who was ever overdrawn can tell you.

However, this would involve teaching everybody in the United States to type, along with furnishing everybody a typewriter and some magnetic ribbon.

The job would be so big, requiring the manufacture of 200 million typewriters and the services of a million or more typing instructors, that it wouldn't be long before the entire nation would be dominated by the Typewriter and Magnetic Ribbon Complex.
